About the Project

The ADAPT project aims to integrate mobile EU youth and their families into the political and social life of host countries by enhancing digital skills and promoting active participation in democratic processes. Focusing on underrepresented groups, such as women and disadvantaged youth, it targets five countries: Liechtenstein, Latvia, Romania, Greece, and Germany.

The Final Conference is crucial as it provides an opportunity to showcase the project's overall achievements, ensuring transparency and accountability in all aspects. It serves as a platform for stakeholders, partners, and participants to exchange insights, evaluate the project's impact, and identify best practices.

About the Project

By bringing together representatives from various levels of authorities and youth participants, the conference fosters meaningful dialogue and collaboration, strengthening networks and partnerships.

Additionally, it creates a space for collecting valuable feedback, which can guide future initiatives and enhance the sustainability and replicability of the project's outcomes.

Ultimately, the event solidifies the project's legacy and reinforces its contributions to the overarching goals of the Erasmus+ program.

Target Groups

EU Mobile Youth Citizens

Young people who have relocated within the EU for purposes such as employment, education, or training.

Disadvantaged Youth

Youth facing socio-economic challenges or who are from marginalized backgrounds, including those with limited access to digital resources and civic engagement opportunities.

ERASMUS+ Students and Interns

Students and interns participating in ERASMUS+ mobility programs, who are integrating into host communities and seeking to develop digital and civic competencies.

Youth Workers and Trainers

Representatives from each partner organization (CYA, ECRRED, ASEL, EQUALINE, uDevelop), who will support participants' development and later disseminate the learnings and methodologies within their networks.

Local Citizens

Especially those who have had limited engagement with EU mobile citizens, fostering mutual understanding and social cohesion.

Approach

The ADAPT Project's approach centers participants in the learning experience, empowering them to actively contribute and shape their personal development journey. Through immersive workshops, role-playing exercises, and scenario-based learning, participants can engage with digital and civic skills in real-life contexts, deepening their understanding and practical application. A collaborative setting will foster teamwork, shared goals, and peer support, encouraging participants to connect, share insights, and build lasting relationships.

By emphasizing peer-to-peer learning, the project promotes an exchange of ideas, best practices, and solutions, enhancing the overall experience and enabling each participant to benefit from diverse perspectives. With a focus on practical, actionable outcomes, the ADAPT Project inspires participants to implement their knowledge and strategies, aiming for tangible impacts within their communities. Finally, reflective practices will allow participants to assess their learning, identify key insights, and recognize opportunities for personal and professional growth, ensuring a meaningful and transformative experience.
